Subject: Request for Information — DRC Green Corridor

Dear Laurent Valiergue,

Climate Rights International is an international NGO that conducts research and advocacy on the human rights dimensions of the climate crisis. We have been conducting research on carbon finance projects in the Democratic Republic of Congo, including those operating within or adjacent to the Green Corridor, for a report/briefing paper we plan to publish.

We want to ensure that our report accurately reflects the views, policies, and practices of relevant authorities and companies, and we hope that you or your representatives will respond to the following questions, outlined below. Any responses will be reflected in our reporting as appropriate, and we may publish your responses at our discretion and when appropriate, either in full or in part.

REDD+ Carbon Finance Projects

1. We understand that Perenco, through its investment and asset management company Taranis, manages two REDD+ projects spanning approximately 400,000 hectares across two former logging concessions located inside the Green Corridor — one in Équateur Province and the other in Mongala Province. Could you confirm the accuracy of this information?

2. Have those REDD+ projects been subject to independent third-party verification, and if so, by whom?

3. Could you specify whether the carbon credits generated by these projects are/will be sold on voluntary or compliance carbon markets, and to which buyers?

4. Could you indicate the current stage of the local communities' FPIC process, what it has entailed to date, and what are the next expected stages to be undertaken?

5. Is Perenco currently involved in or considering any other REDD+ projects within the area designated as the Green Corridor?

Please provide your responses in writing to [redacted] copying [redacted] Your responses can only be considered for inclusion in our publication if we receive them by June 22, 2026. In addition, please include any other materials, statistics, and/or information you think may be relevant.

We would also welcome the opportunity to speak with you or your representatives. Please let me know if you have any questions or if you would like to arrange a meeting or video conference.

Yours sincerely,

Brad Adams
